The career of Bailinger as searctary of the interior has been a stormy one since his appointment by President Tatt in 1909. The first year of his incombancy was fruitful of allegations by many that his friendliness toward the vested interests hampered him in an unbiased administration of his department, culminating in the Cunninghan case, involving the title to thousands of acres of coal lands in Alaska. The evidence brought out at this hearing was the foundation for the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy which resulted in the dismissal of Chief Forester Gifford-Pinchoa from the service and also the anding of the official life of Louis E. R. Glavis, a government special agent.

Ballinger was the attorney for the Cunningham claimants before he' became secretary of the interior, and up to the time of his accepting that office, and worked diligently to have the title of Cuntingham and his assistants to this valuable property accepted by the concentration.

A report was filed directly with President Taft by special agent Louis R. Clavis, in which he charged that the Junningham claimants were trying to grab" the Alaska coal lands and charging Ballinger with using his official position to further the acceptance of Cunningham's title to these Alaskan coal lands. Many other charges were made against Ballinger in this report. The president, after some days' deliberation, replied to Glavis's charges by completely exonerating Ballinger.

A demand was then made for congressional investigation of the interior department which resulted in an officressional investigation of the interior department which resulted in an official investigation of Gifford Pinchot, chief forester and leading opponent against Ballinger, and of Ballinger. During the investigation. Gifford Pinchot was removed from his office by President Taft on account of his activity against the secretary. Finally the investigating committee returned a majority report once more giving Ballinger a clean bill. A minerity report, however, declared him "unfaithful to his trust."

Matters rested then for a time. Satrday, however, it was learned that Thus spoke Dr. G. A. B. Hall, medical health officer, to the Times this morning. The prevalence of the pneumonic plague in various parts of China, particularly, in Manchuria; and the serious outbreak of cholera at Honolinia have aliarmed the health guthorites all along the Pacific coast, and ways and means to ward off the dread invader are now being considered. Said Dr. Hall.

"At the last meeting of the board of health I drew attention to the seriousness of the situation and I was instructed to prepare a report, which I have now about finished.

"In estimating the requirements of the situation, in the cleaning up programme which I propose shall be followed, I am in co-operation with the chief of the fire department, the building inspector and the sanitary inspector—the idea being to get fully informed as to the existence in any part of the city of places which need attention.

Elected-Proposed Municipal Trolley System

(Times Leased Wire.)

Seattle, Wash., March 7.—Out of 18 candidates, Seattle voters will to-day select the nine members of the city council, and a bitter fight is on. Arrayed against an even nine of the reform candidates are nine standpatters, most of them prominent in the present council. The former have the support of two of the local newspapers.

A hot fight is being made on the election of Joe Smith: an insurgent newspaperman who was nominated in the primaries without making a speech or spending a dollar for advertising. He was Mayor Dilling's private secretary.

The people will also vote on an $800.000 bond issue to-day for a municipal trolley system. The Seattle Electric Company is making a warm campaign against the measure.

Although the weather is disagreeable, many women were on hand to cast their ballot when the polls opened.

from the war department at Washington.

It is believed that troops are being sent southward on account of the many reports reaching the state department that bandits under the guise of insurrectionists, are interfering seriously with Americans engaged in works along the border, and are purioning mules, provisions and tools.

According to reports reaching here, insistent appeals for interference on the part of the United States to protect Americans from molestation has at last been heard by the administration.

Representatives of the Madero revotation in Mexico this afternoon declared that the United States has received a screet information that President Dias is in danger of dying at any time, that his advanced age and enfeebted condition make the end of his career a matter of a very short time. On the theory that the nations of Europe will look to Uncle Sam to maintain order in Mexico when Diaz dies, the revolutionists expiained the hasty mobolization of the army and navy at the Mexican frontier. It is administration together when Diaz relinquishes his fron grip.

MAJORITY OF CANADIANS. APPROVE AGREEMENT

Empire.

In the last analysis what the Government proposed was simply that the tiller of the soil should get the best possible remuneration for his labor. Not a single Canadian interest was sacrificed. The objections made to the agreement were all based on something not within the four corners of the greement itself.

Discussing the chief object:

Discussing the chief objections raised of the agreement. Sir Wilfrid maintaind there was no danger of deflecting he export trade from present Canadian hannels, since a new bonding privilege was in force and only the cheapness of he respective trade routes regulated he mode of export.

In regard to the objection that it would tend to the destruction of our atpural resources, he said there was othing in the agreement which resourced from the provincial governments of the federal government of control ver forest, minerals, etc.

In regard to the charge that some pecial industries might be endangered, Sir Wilfrid maintained that this fear was not based on actual study of the onditions.

Finally, in regard to the fear that the agreement meant the fiscal dependence of Canada on the States and ultimate annexation, he noted nothing in the agreement which removed in the slightest way the Dominion's fiscal autonomy, and the loyalty of the Dominion to the Mother Country was too well founded in the hearts and minds of the people to be affected by a mere matter of selling more goods to our neighbor to the south. There was no disloyalty in exports.

FIETH REGIMENT

Public Invited to Visit Fine Local Corps on Thursday Evening

On Thursday evening Lt.-Col, Currie, officers and men of the Fifth Regiment, C.G.A., will be "at home" to all friends and to the public generally in the drill hall. The occasion will be specially interesting in that Lt.-Governor Paterson will be presents and will make formal presentation to the regiment of the numerous trophies which that splendid corps, of which Victorians are justly-proud, won last year in competition with the whole Dominion.

The regiment will parade at 8 p. m. and this pleasant event will take place. After parade is dismissed, the officers, sergeants' and company messes will be prened for the reception of the visitors. The hospitality of the corps needs no malse. The fine band of the regiment, under Bandmaster Rogers, will perform one of its best programmes.

It is the wish of the officers, and the men, that citizens generally should accept the invitation to be their guests for the evening.

The new rules committee is almost a complete transformation from the present one.

With an eye to the next national compaign some Democratic members of the new House of Representatives are laying plans for an onsidaught on the Republican attitude toward extending the scope of pension expenses. Some of them received word of publications which erroneously assumed the enactment of the Sulloway general pension of the Willoway general pension bill, a measure which passed the House but failed in the senate.

Representative Cullop of Indiana announced his intention to reintroduce at the extra session a bill providing for a pension of one dollar a day for every man who served ninety days in the civil war and was mustered in and mustered out and the same amount for every man who served sixty days in the Kexican war, of whom about 500 are said to be living.

Householder has already begun to out down his staff, two or three of the players having been let out, but the actual pruning will not begin until March 20, when the ball-tossers will turn out for the first practice. The fam will, however, have a chance to see the men, in whom most interest is centred, the pitchers, before that time, for by the middle of next week the grounds will be in shape and some of the twirlers, who are expected to report in a day or so, will be out on the lot taking the kinks out of their arms.

This is a great improvement over the lot that McCredis turned over to this circuit in 1909.

The White Sox will win the American League pennant this year? Paste this in your hat!" says Charles A. Comiskey, the old Roman who directs the fortunes of the Chicago Americans. This surprising prediction coming from a most conservative baseball magnate has sitrred up the fans in the Windy City. They have much respect for Comiskey's judgment, and have adopted this forecast as goopel.

Vancouver, March 7.—It is said that this year's class list at the Vancouver incree. Show will be larger than anything of the kind ever before attempted in Canada. Taree thousand prize lists are being distributed throughout the country. Earl Grey has been invited to come, out and formally open the show, and a number of Winnipeg people intimated a desire for entry forms. There will be 179 classes, and a number of new departures. There will be challenge drives, something new in connection with the show, and prizes for the best faught horse, the best part-saddle horse, and the best hunter. Also there will be three more classes in roadsters than ever before. Some of the classes in which entries were found too numerous last year, will be again divided, which will make them much easier to judge and handle, besides making extra interesting events. The show will open April 25 and entries will close on April 15 and entries

According to the evidence, Tucker
Peach was a rancher who lived alone in a shack at Gladys, Alberta. He was well to do, owning his own ranch and having a number of horses which his neighbor, John Fisk, wanted. Thomas Mitchell Robertson was a hired man at a neighboring farm, a young Scotchman, who was to get his share of the plunder, the Peach ranch. The desirability of murdering Peach was distussed aind a time appointed for the crime. Early on the morning of May 21 last Fisk and Robertson went to the Peach shack. Robertson knocked at the door, which was opened by the old rancher, and the two entered. Fisk then took out a revolver and deliberately shot Peach in the forehead, handing the pistol to his companion, who also took a shot at the old man. Then they fitched up the victim's team of horses to his own wagon, and conveyed the corpse to the river near by, and threw it in.

'The more I think of it the less I think of it." replied the Texan with unconventional originality through a cloud of evaporated foam that surged up within him at the moment.

The effect of this simple statement of fact was wondrous to behold. Like the walls of Jericho at the sound of somebody's trumpet the dam pillars and props, and all the other tatter-demallon patriots of the race fell prope to the earth—with the bold Texan beneath them.

when his remains could be extricated from the debris they carried him reverently away to the seashore so that his soul might again have free life and again fresh air, and to mark the spot where he lies they inscribed the following significant epitaph upon his primitive tomb:

A GOOD IDEA IN HAIR TREATMENT

TREATMENT

The trouble with most women's hair is that they won't take the time to give it proper treatment. If you want your hair to have that look of lustre and vitality, you must take care of it. You cannot expect to have splendid hair if you simply run a comb through it in the mærning-give it a dab on the outer edge, with a brush—throw it into braid—switch it around the head, jab in a few hair pins—and let it go at that.

Hair is like any other growing thing—it needs attention—it needs care—it needs thorough grooming regularly—not only the hair but the scalp.

If you have the time and patience you won't need any hair tonic—but most women haven't. The next best things is Nyal's Hirsutone. It is the best things offered to take the place of hours of combing and brushing.

It tones up the roots, brightens the color, improves the texture, and makes it stays gracefully where it is put. Hirsutone literally revitalizes the neglected hair.

Your Nyal Druggist cheerfully recommends Hirsutone because he knows.

Miserable With Stomach Trouble

FRUIT-A-TIVES BRINGS THE HAPPINESS OF HEALTH

"Fruit-a-tives" cures Stomach Troubles because it cures the Liver, Kidneys, Bowels and Skin.

Indigestion, etc., is not usually the fault of the stomach itself. The bowels are irregular—the kidneys, are weak or strained—the skin is inactive—and consequently the blood is impure. It is the impure blood that really makes bad digestion.

Frank W. Stevenson & Co. Council Deals With Numerous Review the Stock Market for February

Frank W. Stevenson & Co., stock and bond brokers, members o the Victoria Stock Exchange and of the Chicago Board of Trade, in their monthly review of the market for February, say:

The event of the moath in the New York market from a stock market view point has been the decision of the interstate commerce commission against the railroads in the proposed freight rate increases case. The financial district was entirely unprepired for so complete a rejection of the claims of the transportation companies, a compromise of, some sort at least, being, expected. Notice of appeal has been given by some roads, but if its apparent that the opinions of certain railroad officials have undergone some modification upon further digestion. As far as this decision goes, the worst is now known, and while no doubt retrendment will be in order on a great many roads, we believe, that with proper management, dividends at or about the present rate on the leading systems can and will be maintained.

Developments of the past month in the iron and steel market tend to support the view that the buying movement in finished material which searted in "January. B not a mere rebound from the extremely restricted buying of the closing weeks of 1910. The rate at which new orders have been taken this month is greater than that of January. Shipments have increased scale of mill operations in all lines. Bailtrad have been taken this month is greater than that of January. Shipments have increased scale of mill operations in all lines. corrently credited, but what effect this rate case decision will have on the trade remains to be seen.

In the money markets both here and abread, anniltions, are, on, the whole, about the same as last month and the outlook for the near future seems reasonably assured. With the approach of March, banking interest naturally enters in the farm loan situation and especially with reference to the requirements for the annual settlement and delivery on land transactions. Advices from the interior this year indicate that land speculation is at an end and that there is little likelihood of there being more than a normal demand. Developments in the money market during the month have been especially of the clearing house banks, the tendency being towards a strength wing of their position both as to each choldings and reserves.

the decision in the freight rate in-tes case, the stock market was with speculation confined to spe-ties, although advances of some ment were recorded in all the active ssues. The announcement of this de-ision, however, was followed by de-noralized selling, which wiped out a arge portion of previous gains, and

We understand this company has financed all of its present needs, and the stock should do a little better from now on. Red Cliffs at present prices we believe, are too high, and would advise taking profits at the market.

There has been an active demand of late for Rambler-Cariboo, with sales recorded as high as 43 cents. Reports from this property just to hand, are of a very elicouraging nature, and shipments which were started a short time back will be greatly increased during the coming month. A new railroad into the property is assured, and will greatly facilitate shipping both, from the Rambler and the adjoining property, the Lucky Jim.

The annual report of the International Coal & Coke Co. will be published shortly, and from what we can learn, will be the most satisfactory statement yet made. We believe these shares should be bought at present figures, both as an investment and speculation.

LORD CURZON ON FUTURE OF EAST

Mutual Attitude of China and Japan the Key-British in India

ormulas of twenty.

Within seven years of the outbreak of the Russo-Japanese war they had seen the Turks in Europe and the Persians in Asia dethroning an absolute monarch and setting up a parilamentary chamber; the Egyptians elamoring for a similar constitution; the indian

for a similar constitution.

Nationalists adopting as their avowed programme self-government on parliamentary lines; the Filipinos already manipulating with zest the institutions conferred upon them by America; the Russian Slavs (who in their acceptance of autocracy had been more eastern than the east) extracting a Duma; and, above all—greatest of wonders—China committing herself to the summoning of a parliament in a few years' time.

Lord Curson thought that the east was unlikely to accept Christianity, for two main reasons. Firstly, the religions of Asia gave to what the pagan mythologies did not sive to Europe—a definite and intelligible theory of the relations of God to man. This satisfied due spiritual aspirations as well as the day-to-day requirements of the Oriental. Secondly, the latter saw in the teachings of Christianity hostility to that revived self-consciousess to which the clung as his dearest possession.

day-to-day requirements of the Oriental. Secondly, the latter saw in the teachings of Christianity hostility to which he clung as his dearest possession.

Christianity had had a positive and enduring mission in Asia as regards the influence of education. It would be a grotesque misleading of facts to argue that Western education had not on the whole been attended with incalculable benefit to the East.

The zeer who could predict the relations of Japan and China a century hence would hold the key to the future of the East. Would China unite with Japan to share the leadership of the Far Eastern world? Present omens were unfavorable to the realization of such a policy, for China still smarted under the recollection of what she had lost to a rival whom, until recently, she despised.

The horoscope of India was the most obscure of any of the countries of the East. Could a Western power situated at a distance of 6,000 miles, maintain a permanent ascendency in an Asiatic country to which the rulers only come as birds of passage for a third of a lifetime, and were represented by a total body—the army of occupation included—of less than 150,000 adult males, and when the sentiment of the East, revived by Western nutriment, was exceptionally active in its manifestation.

There were already many persons who answered that question in the negative, but this country had not

SEATTLE THE REALTY MARKET

Real Acres to Transform Into Garden City Suburb

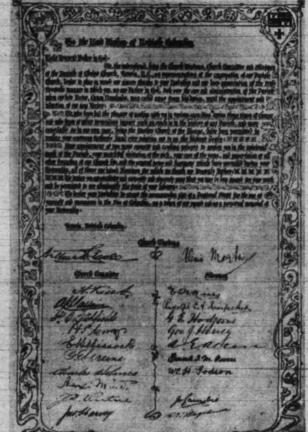

All the enterprise that is necessary to ensuring Victoria having the chance of development it looks for is being provided by the men into whose hands the work of placing the various sections upon the market has devolved. Their faith in the city's future could not be better illustrated than by the manner in which they rush into new ventures. It is an excess of faith amounting almost to induigence, but for the fact that the potentialities of Victoria and district are practically unlimited.

Just yesterday McPherson & Fullerton consummated a deal involving a sum of $125,000. It consists in the purchase of 116 acres located between the Burnside and the Carey roads. Formerly the property belonged to Mr. Sea. It is known as block 78, and is distant about three miles from the centre of the city. It is the intention of the purchasers to subdivide the property, open it up with streets and then place it on the

In building circles in the city every day brings the announcement of a new building of some sort or other that is intended to grace some thoroughfare.

J. L. Skene, who is doing the work on the Y. M. C. A. home, is daily anticipating the announcement, that a new hotel of the handsomest type will be tendered for. Other firms are equally confident that the coming season will be the most prosperous and productive one they have ever seen in Victoria.

Confirmation follows fast on the neets of anticipation in the building world. Two more notices for new structures of considerable importance have just been issued. The first calls for tenders for the crection and completion of a biscuit factory on Russell street. Victoria west, for Popham Brothers. The plans and specifications for this building are to be seen at the office of the architect, H. S. Griffith, leot Government street. The other is inviting tenders for the erection of the South Saanich municipal building at Royal Oak. For this latter building J. C. M. Keith is the architect.

My life was a burden to me a long time. Baby John just cried and cried. I didn't know what was the matter. He was always looking pale and his food didn't agree with him. I didn't know it, but he needed air and sunshine, so I went and bought him a new Go-cart. Of course I bought the "Whitney." Now he smiles and is fat and rosy. You just must come and see him.
